KEY RISKS AND RISK MANAGEMENT

You should not invest in this Fund if you do not understand or are not comfortable with the accompanying risks.

Credit Risk/Default Risk. The possibility for an investor to experience losses due to a borrower's failure to pay principal and/or interest in a timely manner on instruments such as bonds, loans, or other forms of security which the borrower issued.

Reinvestment Risks. The risk associated with the possibility of having lower returns or earnings when maturing funds or the interest earnings of funds are reinvested.

Interest Rate Risk. This is the possibility for an investor to experience losses due to changes in interest rates.

Inflation Risk. The risk that the value of investment is lower than the rate by which the prices of goods and services go up.

Liquidity Risk. The possibility for an investor to experience losses due to the inability to sell or convert assets into cash immediately or in instances where conversion to cash is possible but at a loss.

- The Fund implements a risk management policy that applies the principles of Value-at-Risk (VAR) and Modified Duration. VaR is defined as a statistical estimate of the amount of loss that an "open" risk position is unlikely to exceed during a given time period with a given level of confidence. Modified Duration is a means to measure the change in the value of a security in response to a change in interest rates. The formula is used to determine the effect that a 1% change in interest rates will have on the price of the bond.
- The Fund's investment outlets have been subject to proper screening and evaluation in accordance with LANDBANK – TBG's accreditation process and minimum regulatory requirements.

REDEMPTION CONDITIONS

Surrender of the Confirmation of Participation; subject to penalty if redeemed before the minimum holding period. For Partial Redemption, remaining balance should not be less than minimum investment.

FUND MANAGER'S REPORT

The Bangko Sentral ng Pilipinas' decision to keep policy interest rates steady was hinged on inflation expectations anchored within the forecasted range. And while the May consumer price index rose to 3.2%, bucking the 6-month downtrend, the uptick is not expected to hinder further monetary policy easing onwards. The inflation trend is still expected to course lower for the rest of the year until 2020, on the back of relatively stable global oil prices and the strengthening of the Philippine peso. This led the Bangko Sentral ng Pilipinas to downgrade its 2019 inflation forecast to 2.7% from the previous 2.9%. Local bond market yields have pared significantly lower as market participants price in lower inflation expectations amidst the backdrop of a fundamentally dovish local central bank posture. Furthermore, the reserve requirement ratio cuts have been implemented in tranches, adding a boost to the liquidity in the financial system. Finally, with the government's reduced planned borrowings for the third quarter, demand for local debt securities will definitely shore up bond prices and keep yields low-lying.

VIEW STRATEGY

Lower inflation rate pushed local yield to slide coupled with market liquidity from the result of BSP's cut on Reserve requirements. Rates may continue to decline as market expects inflation to continue to ease that may prompt BSP to cut more reserve and monetary policy rate. As the yield movement in the secondary market continue to slide down, the fund shall gradually increase its duration and reposition fund in medium-to-long term securities but will be closely monitor and reallocate investments when deemed necessary to optimize the portfolio's yield against its corresponding risk.
