Notes from the Top

When LANDBANK embarked on a fresh chapter in its journey of bringing new and innovative services and sustainable programs to more Filipinos here and abroad, we were heartened by the growing support of our clients, partners and friends in the industry.

Now that LANDBANK's vision of helping the nation grow continues to thrive and resonate with others, finding time to return the favor—showing our appreciation to those who have made it possible for us to grow and remain a relevant institution—is a top priority for us as well.

Starting on a high note, we marked our 52nd anniversary this August with a series of recognition events to salute the remarkable contributions of various organizations and individuals toward the prosperity of our countryside and Filipinos in need. These were the Gawad sa Pinakatanging Kooperatiba or Gawad PITAK, Gawad Countryside Financial Institution (CFI), Gawad Entrepreneur, and Gawad sa Korporasyon na Kaagapay sa Ating Ganap na Tagumpay (Gawad KAAGAPAY).

We are also proud to have been on the receiving end of similar recognitions by our industry peers and foreign entities who believe in the work that we do and the goals that we aspire to achieve. Such validation serves to motivate us further into producing more meaningful outcomes for the sustainable growth of our clients and this institution.

Modified CCT beneficiaries receive new LANDBANK prepaid cards

LANDBANK President and CEO Gilda Pico shows the new prepaid card and its features to an MCCT beneficiary during the ceremonial distribution held at the Philippine Postal Office in Intramuros, Manila.

Coinciding with the August 8 anniversary of LANDBANK, the Department of Social Welfare and Development (DSWD) initiated the distribution of LANDBANK prepaid cards to beneficiaries of the Modified Conditional Cash Transfer (MCCT), an offshoot of the Pantawid Pamilya ng Pilipino Program (4Ps).

The new LANDBANK card, which now features the cardholder's photo, can be used to withdraw grants or payouts from automated teller machines (ATMs) and for added convenience, allows for cashless purchases of both food and non-food items at establishments with point-of-sale terminals.

A total of 203 family beneficiaries of the MCCT received the new LANDBANK prepaid cards.

The move to release payments through electronic channels is in line with the government's goal of integrating more Filipinos into the financial system to help boost inclusive growth.

Representatives from the United States Agency for International Development and United Nations Children's Fund also graced the event, which was held at the Philippine Postal Office in Intramuros, Manila.

CONSOLIDATING FOR STRENGTH

LANDBANK signs incentive program for rural banks with BSP and PDIC

Bangko Sentral ng Pilipinas Governor Amando Tetangco Jr. leads the MOA signing together with LANDBANK President and CEO Gilda Pico and Philippine Deposit Insurance Corporation President Cristina Orbeta. The event was held on August 25, 2015 at the BSP complex.

Teaming to address the growing need for the country's rural banking industry to better strengthen its financial ground and bolster the government's inclusive growth thrust for the countryside, LANDBANK together with the Bangko Sentral ng Pilipinas (BSP) and Philippine Deposit Insurance Corporation (PDIC) recently signed a memorandum of agreement for the Consolidation Program for Rural Banks or CPRB.

The CPRB, under the direction of the three agencies, endeavors to provide rural banks more opportunities by promoting consolidations and mergers among rural entities to enhance, expand, and unify their financial capabilities toward more competitive engagements in more communities across the country. This will also allow said banks to meet the demands entailing the liberalization of foreign bank entry and regional banking integration.

In her speech, LANDBANK President Pico noted that the CPRB has the vast potential to open new doors for rural banks, such as taking advantage of partnerships with commercial banks for fund transfer facilities catering to the remittance needs of both overseas Filipinos and clients living in the farthest municipalities.

Serving as witnesses at the signing were, for LANDBANK: First Vice President for Lending Programs Management Group Leila Martin and First Vice President for Investment Banking Group James Aldana; for BSP: Managing Director for Supervision and Examination Sub-Sector III Chuchi Fonacier and Assistant Governor for Financial Supervision Research and Consumer Protection Sub-Sector Johnny Noe Ravalo; and for PDIC: Executive Vice President Imelda Singzon and Vice President Josefina Velilla.

Green Leadership Award for Environmental Due Diligence (EDD) system

EVENT: 5th Asia Responsible Entrepreneurship Awards (AREA)
DATE & VENUE: June 19, 2015 at Banyan Tree Hotel - Macau, China

Under the EDD system, LANDBANK conducts environmental impact assessment and monitoring as a requirement in financing projects. This was initiated 20 years ago as part of a requirement for projects assisted by the World Bank.

In 2004, LANDBANK institutionalized the system, which is now being implemented in lending centers across the country, covering all LANDBANK-financed projects regardless of the amount. It also integrated environmental due diligence in its credit delivery operations to ensure that loan clients' projects comply with environmental laws and regulations.

The Bank's Environmental Program and Management Department, meanwhile, assesses projects, generating Environmental Assessment Reports essential to the evaluation and approval of loan proposals.

Outstanding Lending Bank

CATEGORY: Credit Surety Fund (CSF)
EVENT: 2015 Awards Ceremony and Appreciation Lunch for Bangko Sentral ng Pilipinas (BSP) Stakeholders
12 Years and Beyond: Celebrating Stronger Partnerships and Successful Collaborations
DATE & VENUE: July 9, 2015 at BSP Assembly Hall, Manila

The CSF is a credit enhancement scheme that pools cash contributions from participating cooperatives, local government units and other partner institutions. It aims to improve the bankability and credit-worthiness of micro, small, and medium enterprises.

During the event, LANDBANK was also cited as "Outstanding Respondent in Survey of Inflation Forecasts." Covering a three-year forecast horizon, the survey enables the BSP to keep track of inflation expectations and serves as an input to the inflation outlook. Various institutions based in Manila as well as overseas take part in this survey.

LANDBANK President and CEO Gilda Pico and Executive VP for Agricultural and Development Lending Sector Cecilia Borromeo attended the 5th Asia Responsible Entrepreneur Awards (AREA) and 2015 Awards Ceremony and Appreciation Lunch for Bangko Sentral ng Pilipinas Stakeholders, respectively. Seen with them are (top left, l-r): Dr. Niven Huang, General Manager of KPMG Sustainability Consulting Co., Ltd, Taiwan and Chairman of Advisory Board of ASRIA, Hong Kong, and Enterprise Asia President Dato William Ng. Marking yet again the start of LANDBANK's anniversary celebration is the staging of the Gawad sa Pinakatanging Kooperatiba or Gawad PITAK. Holding this annual event for more than two decades, we have come to appreciate the value of doing good for others and the reciprocal nature of validation among peers.

This year's conferment includes outstanding performances of cooperatives in special categories as well as those from individuals who have made lasting impressions with their work and personal actions. The recognitions and rewards resulting from this celebration come second only to the thousands of Filipinos who have been enabled to recognize their own potential for a better quality of living.

LANDBANK's annual search has led us to many communities, including the mountain side of Nueva Vizcaya, in a community mostly inhabited by agrarian reform beneficiaries (ARBs). It is here where one can find the Conwap Valley Multi-Purpose Cooperative--LANDBANK's Gawad PITAK Outstanding ARB Cooperative for 2015.

A work in progress

Traveling from Manila to where this humble yet effective organization operates will eat up roughly eight to 10 hours of travel time, half of which will be spent on traversing the steep and winding path of the mountainside. For the unfamiliar, the long journey will seem to last forever, until you finally stop at a simple signage verifying that indeed, you have reached the Conwap Valley MPC head office. However, one has to get past the fact that the road is closer to the roof than the floor of the general merchandise store of the cooperative. The actual office is two storeys down from the road. This structural discord can be attributed to the fact that it was only in 2007 that concrete roads paved the hilly and remote area. To this day, the cooperative has no telephone line nor internet connection.

Yet despite the lack of the usual trappings of a modern office space or the frustrating delay of having access to today's everyday communication tools, the people here have been coping well in building better lives. For in a community that is every bit rural, residents are able to count on a simple yet caring organization of upland farmers dedicated to unifying agrarian reform beneficiaries, and helping elevate their way of living. This is the Conwap Valley Multi-Purpose Cooperative of Dupax del Norte.

In 1993, the founding members of what is now known as Conwap Valley Multi-Purpose Cooperative formally registered with the Cooperative Development Authority. Back then, the group was called Binuangan Agrarian Reform Beneficiaries Multi-Purpose Cooperative, a name reflective of its home and people it was to serve.

Conwap Valley MPC offers credit and savings facilities to its members numbering 252 as of end-December 2014. Though limited in operational reach, Conwap Valley MPC is able to link the small farmers and other agrarian settlers with the right people by helping bring their products to neighboring communities and enterprises by serving as an effective marketing conduit. This has allowed the people to take ownership of their economic activities, mitigating unnecessary costs and getting fair market pricing.

Going beyond their agricultural thrusts, the co-op is also lending a helping hand with future generations as it has been regularly rewarding first-honor students, regardless of non-membership of their parents to the cooperative, with kiddie savings accounts. All these endeavors have begun to merit the attention of industry authorities. In fact, the Department of Agrarian Reform named Conwap Valley MPC as Most Progressive ARB Organization in the Region for 2014.

LANDBANK, for its part, has taken due notice as well. The recent Gawad PITAK event held at the Manila Hotel saw Conwap Valley Multi-Purpose Cooperative receive the Special Award for Outstanding ARB Cooperative. Though reserved in their demeanor, one could easily see the pride of the group as they mingled and stood proud wearing traditional garb. Meeting with the cooperative back in June, we asked Mr. Edmond Remolazo, the co-op chairman his thoughts on the LANDBANK nomination. Showing a mix of nerves, he confessed apprehension about the expectations that lay ahead. Yet, he was also excited of the prospects, distinctly proud and humbled that their efforts are being noticed by others beyond their community.

"Nininerbyos na na e-excite kami kasi kami mismo, hindi namin nararamdaman na ganoon na pala kaganda ang kooperatiba namin—na yun mga serbisyong sinimulan natin ay maganda pala. At may mga ibang ahensya na nakakakita at tumutulong sa pag monitor sa amin para mas mapabuti kami, tulad ng LANDBANK. Hindi lang po pang Nueva Vizcaya makikilala ang co-op namin, kung hindi pang buong Pilipinas na pala siya."

- Edmond Remolazo, Chairman

For every journey taken, an opportunity is opened. Crossing the silver mark, the Gawad PITAK 2015 has undoubtedly brought about countless change in the lives of many in the countryside, allowing LANDBANK, through the strength of its cooperative relationships, to be part of their lives, finding more opportunities to help people grow.

August 7, 2015, Manila. Chairman Remolazo receives the trophy from keynote speaker, former Philippine Senator Ramon Magsaysay Jr. for winning Outstanding ARB Cooperative during the Gawad PITAK 2015 event. Posing with them were Secretary of Finance and LANDBANK Chairman Cesar Purisima, and LANDBANK President and CEO Gilda Pico.

WINNERS' LIST

As LANDBANK continues to enhance the standards for the Gawad PITAK, this annual gathering has come to symbolize something beyond any socio-political bias, age or demographic—that of hope and unity. Our mission to transcend the cause of our farmers and fishers is a foundation of ours that has stood the test of time—all 25 years of celebrating the spirit of cooperativism across the country.

LANDBANK PITSTOPS IN BATANES FOR FINANCING FORUM

LANDBANK Executive Vice President for Agricultural and Development Lending Sector Cecilia Borromeo (right) attends a meeting with the Board of Directors of Batanes Multi-Purpose Cooperative. Inset: Batanes Governor Vicente Gato during the Business Forum.

Basco, Batanes—Tapping into the potential of the growing ecotourism in the province of Batanes, LANDBANK partnered with the Department of Agriculture (DA), Philippine Crop Insurance Corporation (PCIC) and Agricultural Guarantee Fund Program for a roadshow to promote the Bank’s various programs that would help address the developmental needs of farmers, fishers, local government units and business entities.

At the forum, LANDBANK Executive Vice President for Agricultural and Development Lending Sector Cecilia Borromeo discussed the Bank’s Agricultural and Fisheries Financing Program (AFFP) which would help address the financial needs of those who are interested in building or opening tourist-centered businesses.

Availers of the AFFP can also use the funding toward the production and promotion of the local food industry, complementing the Province’s own program for further developing tourism in their area. These concerns were expressed by both officers and representatives from PCCI and the Provincial Tourism Office during the session. Meanwhile, in a separate meeting, the Batanes Multi-Purpose Cooperative as headed by Chairman Charles Ibanes, expressed gratitude to LANDBANK for its instrumental role in the growth and sustainability of the cooperative.

LANDBANK representatives also attended the National Executive Meeting of the Agricultural Credit Policy Council at DA Batanes Experimental Station in Chanarian, Basco. They also conducted project visits to existing and prospective clients of the Bank.

LANDBANK conducts eMDS briefings with NGAs

LANDBANK personnel and client National Government Agencies (NGAs) were introduced to the Electronic Modified Disbursement System (eMDS) in a series of briefings that started in April this year.

The events were in response to the March 12, 2015 Joint Administrative Order (No. 20151) prescribing the adoption of the eMDS as part of the Government's Modified Disbursement Scheme (MDS). Government branches, agencies and instrumentalities maintaining MDS sub-accounts with LANDBANK are enjoined to enrol and subscribe to the eMDS.

The eMDS facility allows online MDS transactions as well as monitoring of disbursements and generation of reports. LANDBANK developed the eMDS as a secure Internet facility for NGAs that provides banking convenience and promotes efficiency and transparency through technology and automation. Its functionalities include account information, transmission of Advice of Checks Issued and Cancelled (ACIC), transfer of fund allocation, processing of payment to creditors and requisition of checkbook. It will also help in the declogging of lobby traffic in the branches since NGAs may now directly transact via the Internet.

LANDBANK's continuing nationwide campaign on the eMDS facility is spearheaded by the Electronic Products Department in cooperation with the MDS Collection Management Department and the Systems Implementation Department. Provincial Branch Groups also conducted road shows and briefings on eMDS to their respective client government agencies.
