FUND MANAGER’S REPORT

The Philippine stock market succumbed to the tariff threats of President Trump and slumped to start the year on a negative note falling to as low as the 5,800 level. But at this juncture, valuations are extremely cheap which makes the case for a compelling buy. Forward PE multiple dropped to low double-digit level based on 2025 forecast earnings. This is the cheapest Philippine stocks have been in the last 30 years. In fact, the 11.1x Price to Earnings valuation is cheaper than during the depressed periods brought about by black swan events (i.e. Asian Financial Crisis, Dot-Com Bubble, U.S. Sub-prime Crisis, Covid pandemic.) At current levels, further downside is very limited while potential upside would be huge if Trump’s tariff agenda does not wreak havoc the way it is envisioned to. It is also worth noting that foreign funds have been streaming back into the market in March which could mean that these are positioning in anticipation of a market rebound.

VIEW STRATEGY

Valuation-wise, Philippine stocks are a screaming buy. Many issues have fallen to single-digit PERs and very low Price-to-Book multiples. Nevertheless, it would still be good to select issues with solid fundamentals and good earnings prospects, going forward. Accumulate these badly battered stocks. It is still a trader’s market so sell whenever an 8% return has been realized as a sustained bull run is unlikely given the uncertainties stemming from Trump’s policies.

ABOUT THE LANDBANK EQUITY FUND’S BENCHMARK

The Weighted Average Percentage change in the following indices:

- a. Philippine Stock Exchange Index (PSEi) – 95% and
- b. 1-month BVAL – 5%

However, this should not be construed as a guarantee of yield.

Description of the Benchmark

The Philippine Stock Exchange Index (PSEi) is composed of the 30 blue chip listed firms that are most representative of the cross-section of the Philippine economy. These issues should meet the minimum standards as prescribed by Exchange, such as but not limited to, the value of the company, free float level of listed shares, and liquidity in terms of daily trading or value turnover.

The 1-month BVAL is the front-end of the Philippine yield curve which reflects the current yield for a 30-day fixed-income security.

Key Characteristics

The Philippine Stock Exchange Composite Index (PSEi), is a fixed basket of thirty (30) common stocks of listed companies, carefully selected to represent the general movement of the stock market. In other words, it is the benchmark measuring the performance of the Philippine stock market.

The 1-month BVAL reflects the current yield on the 30-day fixed income security.

Relation of the benchmark to the fund’s objectives/investment strategies

The fund is designed for sophisticated investors with a high-risk appetite. It invested mostly in shares listed on the Philippine Stock Exchange with the objective of at least having a return at par with the PSEi.

To manage liquidity risk, the fund lodges 5% of net assets in 30-day placements. As such, the weighted average return of the PSEi (95%) and the 1-month BVAL (5%) is the most appropriate composite benchmark for the fund’s performance.
