A client profiling process should be performed prior to participating in the Fund to guide prospective investor if the Fund is suited to his/her investment objectives and risk tolerance. The LANDBANK Global Dollar Fund is classified as a Bond Fund suitable only for investors who:

KEY RISKS AND RISK MANAGEMENT

You should not invest in this Fund if you do not understand or are not comfortable with the accompanying risks.

Credit Risk/Default Risk. The risk of losses due to a borrower's failure to pay principal and/or interest in a timely manner on instruments such as bonds, loans, or other forms of security which the borrower issued.

Reinvestment Risks. The risk associated with the possibility of having lower returns or earnings when maturing funds or the interest earnings of funds are reinvested.

Interest Rate Risk. This is the possibility for an investor to experience losses due to changes in interest rates.

Market/Price Risk. This is the possibility for an investor to experience losses due to changes in market prices of securities.

Inflation Risk. The risk that the value of investment is lower than the rate by which the prices of goods and services go up.

Liquidity Risk. This is the possibility for an investor to experience losses due to the inability to sell or convert assets into cash immediately or in instances where conversion to cash is possible but at a loss.

- The Fund implements a risk management policy that applies the principles of Value-at-Risk (VAR) and Modified Duration. VaR is defined as a statistical estimate of the amount of loss that an "open" risk position is unlikely to exceed during a given time period with a given level of confidence. Modified Duration is a means to measure the change in the value of a security in response to a change in interest rates. The formula is used to determine the effect that a 1% change in interest rates will have on the price of the bond.
- The Fund's investment outlets have been subject to proper screening and evaluation in accordance with LANDBANK – TBG's accreditation process and minimum regulatory requirements.

REDEMPTION CONDITIONS

Surrender of the Confirmation of Participation; subject to penalty if redeemed before the minimum holding period. For Partial Redemption, remaining balance should not be less than minimum investment.

FUND MANAGER'S REPORT

The global economic landscape in July appeared to be stable but in no way secure. Overall, what's been happening since the start of the second quarter, just continued to play out according to script. While the U.S. economy seemed to be plodding along ever so slowly with a 1% GDP growth in H1, the rest of the world is struggling to keep their economies afloat. Europe is still in the doldrums with unemployment stubbornly high at double digit figures. Adding to the pain, the continent's already dim prospects was further dampened by the recent Brexit. Indeed, it wouldn't take much of a shock to plunge the Eurozone, growing at just 0.3%, back into recession. A severe Brexit fallout could easily do it.

In Asia, the two main growth engines in the region are sputtering. Although China was able to stabilize its financial markets, there is fear about the country's growing debt level as economic growth continues to slow down. Japan's monetary policy, meanwhile, has failed miserably as the Yen strengthened on haven demand, effectively negating the BOJ's intent to weaken its currency. Hence, the country unleashed a $120 billion fiscal program to counter any Brexit repercussions.

While the foregoing might paint a bleak picture of the global economy, the Philippines is definitely hanging tough. The prodigious 6.9% GDP growth registered in Q1 is widely expected to be replicated, if not surpassed in Q2. Even with negative exports, internal demand is strong enough to propel the country to new heights. Also, the reversal pattern and significant pullback in world crude oil prices mean that the Filipino's spending power will not be curtailed. This bodes well for the economy as nearly 70% of GDP comes from consumer spending. And with a decisive, quick-acting and results-oriented government, massive infrastructure spending will surely stimulate economic activity. Indeed, the P120 billion budget deficit recorded in H1 (in stark contrast to the surplus registered in the same period last year) indicates that government spending will not be held back and will provide a big boost to the economy.

VIEW STRATEGY

Good start for the sovereign market as spill overs from global equities pushed prices higher with ROPs touching a new high. The ROP41 traded at 117.25 coming from 111.00 levels but prices eventually retracted as bets on another FED rate hike crawled back into the minds on the traders. Yields on the 10-year UST rose to 1.60% closing month end at 1.46%. As volatility loomed on the Fixed Income Market, the Fund's portfolio shall stay on the sidelines and keep good liquidity that was placed on short-term deposits. Market seen to be defensive and wait for further developments to dictate trading.
